

This section will contain the final text of the rules proposed by agencies. The order of rulemaking is required to contain a citation to the legal authority upon which the order of rulemaking is based; reference to the date and page or pages where the notice of proposed rulemaking was published in the Missouri Register; an explanation of any change between the text of the rule as contained in the notice of proposed rulemaking and the text of the rule as finally adopted, together with the reason for any such change; and the full text of any section or subsection of the rule as adopted which has been changed from that contained in the notice of proposed rulemaking. The effective date of the rule shall be not less than thirty (30) days after the date of publication of the revision to the Code of State Regulations.

The agency is also required to make a brief summary of the general nature and extent of comments submitted in support of or opposition to the proposed rule and a concise summary of the testimony presented at the hearing, if any, held in connection with the rulemaking, together with a concise summary of the agency's findings with respect to the merits of any such testimony or comments which are opposed in whole or in part to the proposed rule. The ninety (90)-day period during which an agency shall file its order of rulemaking for publication in the Missouri Register begins either: 1) after the hearing on the proposed rulemaking is held; or 2) at the end of the time for submission of comments to the agency. During this period, the agency shall file with the secretary of state the order of rulemaking, either putting the proposed rule into effect, with or without further changes, or withdrawing the proposed rule.

By the authority vested in the Administrative Hearing Commission under section 621.198, RSMo Supp. 2001, the commission amends a rule as follows:

1 CSR 15-3.200 is amended.

A notice of proposed rulemaking containing the text of the proposed amendment was published in the Missouri Register on July 1, 2002 (27 MoReg 1099). A change has been made in the text of the proposed amendment, so it is reprinted here. This proposed amendment becomes effective thirty (30) days after publication in the Code of State Regulations.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS: The commission received no written comments. At the public hearing, Commissioner Winn made one (1) comment.

COMMENT: The title of this chapter as proposed was rendered inaccurate by subsection 4 of section 308.010 of S.B. 1202, Ninety-First General Assembly, Second Regular Session. That subsection transferred “[a]ll the powers, duties and functions, including all rules and orders, of the administrative law judges of the division of motor carrier and railroad safety” to the commission.

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: The commission has changed the title of the chapter, and the language of the rule, to reflect the commission’s jurisdiction under S.B. 1202. The commission has also added language to the title of the chapter to clarify that this chapter applies only to cases assigned to the commission by statute, and not to cases in which the commission acts as a hearing officer by interagency agreement.

Chapter 3—Procedure For All Contested Cases Under Statutory Jurisdiction, Except Cases Under Section 621.040, RSMo

1 CSR 15-3.200 Subject Matter

This chapter 1 CSR 15-3 contains all procedural regulations for all contested cases assigned to the Administrative Hearing Commission by statute, except for cases under section 621.040, RSMo. For cases under section 621.040, RSMo regulations are located at 4 CSR 265-2.010, 4 CSR 265-2.020, 4 CSR 265-2.030, 4 CSR 265-2.040, and 4 CSR 265-2.050. This chapter does not apply to cases not assigned to the Administrative Hearing Commission by statute, including cases in which the Administrative Hearing Commission acts as a hearing officer for another agency by interagency agreement.

Title 2—DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
Division 70—Plant Industries
Chapter 13—Boll Weevil Eradication

ORDER OF RULEMAKING

By the authority vested in the director of the Department of Agriculture under section 263.505, RSMo 2000, the director adopts a rule as follows:

2 CSR 70-13.045 is adopted.

A notice of proposed rulemaking containing the text of the proposed rule was published in the Missouri Register on May 15, 2002 (27 MoReg 774-775). Those sections with changes are reprinted here. This proposed rule becomes effective thirty (30) days after publication in the Code of State Regulations.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: Even though no public comments were received, the department has added two subsections to section (2) in order to prevent registration of locations without apiaries and to limit the number of apiary locations within specific field units.

2 CSR 70-13.045 Registration of Apiaries

(2) Every person who moves an apiary into the eradication zone or within one (1) mile of that zone or otherwise comes into possession of an apiary or hive that is located within the eradication zone after the first day of May, shall register with the Missouri Department of Agriculture, the number of and location of apiaries prior to movement into, or upon possession within the eradication zone counties.

(A) Registration of an apiary, which does not contain active hives with supers, and/or failure to notify the Missouri Department of Agriculture within twenty-four (24) hours that a registered apiary is no longer in use, shall be subject to a penalty of up to five hundred dollars ($500) per apiary location.

(B) The Missouri Department of Agriculture may limit registration of apiaries based upon number of registered apiaries within a field unit as described within the eradication zone. At such time registration of specific apiary locations may be denied.

REVISED PRIVATE COST: The additional cost to private entities may range from zero to one thousand dollars ($0-$1000) along with an estimated nine hundred forty-eight dollars ($948), which was submitted with the original estimate.

ORDER OF RULEMAKING

By the authority vested in the director of the Department of Mental Health under sections 630.050 and 630.055, RSMo 2000, the director amends a rule as follows:

9 CSR 10-7.060 Behavior Management is amended.

A notice of proposed rulemaking containing the text of the proposed amendment was published in the Missouri Register on May 15, 2002 (27 MoReg 787-788). No changes have been made in the text of the proposed amendment, so it is not reprinted here. This proposed amendment becomes effective thirty (30) days after publication in the Code of State Regulations.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS: The Department of Mental Health received two (2) comments on the proposed amendment.

COMMENT: Rita Tadych with the State Board of Nursing requested clarification/definition of "licensed practitioner" and was interested in whether "licensed practitioner" included registered professional nurses licensed in Missouri.

RESPONSE: Registered professional nurses licensed in Missouri are included. No definition of "licensed practitioner" will be placed within the amendment. The term is adequately defined as written. No changes have been made to the rule as a result of this comment.

COMMENT: Jorgen Schlemeier with the Governmental Affairs section of the Missouri Psychological Association expressed opposition on behalf of the Association to the inclusion of Certified Substance Abuse Counselors as individuals qualified to order seclusion or restraint. Their concern stated that this practice by an unlicensed practitioner without also requiring additional education requirements could pose a risk to the public health and welfare. They also indicated that this practice would cause a healthcare organization to be unaccredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations (JCAHO).

RESPONSE: Additional training is required and the rule specifically states, "Seclusion and restraint shall only be implemented by competent, trained staff. . . trained in the use of emergency safety interventions." The majority of the agencies contracted by the Division of Alcohol and Drug Abuse are not JCAHO accredited. If an agency is accredited it must conform to the more stringent standards of JCAHO. Additionally, agencies can establish written policies indicating that they will not do seclusion or restraint. No changes have been made to the rule as a result of this comment.

A notice of proposed rulemaking containing the text of the proposed amendment was published in the Missouri Register on May 1, 2002 (27 MoReg 700-701). No changes have been made in the text of the proposed amendment, so it is not reprinted here. This proposed amendment becomes effective thirty (30) days after publication in the Code of State Regulations.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS: No written or verbal comments were received concerning this proposed amendment.

Title 10—DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES
Division 25—Hazardous Waste Management Commission
Chapter 12—Hazardous Waste Fees and Taxes

ORDER OF RULEMAKING

By the authority vested in the Hazardous Waste Management Commission under sections 260.370 and 260.395, RSMo 2000, the commission amends a rule as follows:

10 CSR 25-12.010 Fees and Taxes is amended.

A notice of proposed rulemaking containing the text of the proposed amendment was published in the Missouri Register on May 1, 2002 (27 MoReg 702-706). No changes have been made in the text of the proposed amendment, so it is not reprinted here. This proposed amendment becomes effective thirty (30) days after publication in the Code of State Regulations.

SUMMARY OF TESTIMONY: During the public hearing before the Missouri Hazardous Waste Management Commission on June 4, 2002, the department testified that section 260.479, RSMo establishes the category tax paid by generators of hazardous waste, including minimum annual amounts, individual site caps, and a company cap. Currently the minimum annual amount is fifty dollars ($50), the individual site caps are forty thousand dollars ($40,000) or eighty thousand dollars ($80,000) annually depending on the waste disposal method used, and the company cap is eighty thousand dollars ($80,000) annually. The department further testified that the commission is authorized to increase these amounts annually, via the rulemaking process, by as much as 2.55%.

In addition, the department testified that various sections in Chapter 260, RSMo authorize the commission to determine the department's reasonable costs incurred in review of any plans, documents, or reports submitted by hazardous waste facilities. Section 260.375(30), RSMo authorizes the commission to determine the department's reasonable costs incurred in review of any plans, documents, or reports submitted by facilities undergoing corrective action to investigate, monitor, or clean up any releases of hazardous wastes or hazardous constituents to the environment at hazardous waste facilities. Section 260.375(7), RSMo authorizes the commission to determine the department's reasonable costs incurred in the review of any engineering data submitted by applicants for hazardous waste facility permits. Section 260.395(14) establishes that owners or operators of hazardous waste facilities shall pay to the department all reasonable costs, as determined by the commission, incurred pursuant to review of resource recovery certification applications. The department's reasonable costs are determined by use of a multiplier, as described in 10 CSR 25-12.010(3) and (4). Hourly rates for departmental staff performing oversight or engineering review are multiplied by a fixed factor to account for the department's administrative costs. The department testified that the multiplier has not been increased in several years and, at its current rate, does not enable the department to fully recover its costs because of increases in fringe benefits and other indirect costs. The department further testified that it conducted an analysis that determined that its actual costs are a factor of three and one-half (3 1/2) times the appropriate hourly rate. Therefore, the multiplier was proposed to be increased to three and one-half (3 1/2) in the proposed amendment.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS: No written comments were received and, therefore, no changes were made to the text of the proposed amendment as a result of comments.

Title 10—DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES
Division 60—Public Drinking Water Program
Chapter 4—Contaminant Levels and Monitoring

ORDER OF RULEMAKING

By the authority vested in the Safe Drinking Water Commission under section 640.100, RSMo Supp. 2002, the commission is amending a rule as follows:

10 CSR 60-4.050 is amended.

A notice of proposed rulemaking containing the text of the proposed amendment was published in the Missouri Register on February 15, 2002 (27 MoReg 325-328). One clarification is made to the text of the rule and it is reprinted here. The rule is adopted as amended. This proposed amendment becomes effective thirty (30) days after publication in the Code of State Regulations.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS: A public hearing on this amendment was held May 23, 2002 and the public comment period ended June 14, 2002. At the public hearing the department testified that this proposed amendment adopts the U.S. EPA's new filter backwash recycling requirements. Adoption of these revisions is necessary in order to maintain primacy.

The department testified that these requirements will require surface water treatment plants that are proposed for construction or major modification after the effective date of the rule to be designed to meet filter backwash requirements. Systems practicing recycling must return their recycle flows through the system's filtration system or at an alternative location approved by the department. The rule also specifies reporting, record keeping, and treatment requirements.

Adopting these requirements will benefit the public by providing greater health protection from microbial pathogens such as Cryptosporidium. It will also benefit water systems and the department by ensuring they have the information necessary to evaluate whether site-specific recycle practices may adversely affect the system's ability to meet Cryptosporidium removal requirements.

Comments were received at the public hearing from the representative of a large privately-owned water company. The commenter stated that his company has done a filter rebuild study and believes the cost would be $20 million to bring the two plants affected by the rule into compliance. He further stated that it would take four years to complete construction. He stated that his company is interested in providing a high quality water supply and would like to work with the department. Other capital improvements will provide greater benefits to the public than rebuilding filters.

The commission considered the commenter's remarks but believes the cost estimates provided by the department in the original fiscal note are a reasonably accurate estimate of the potential costs. While costs in an extreme case could exceed the estimated amount, in other cases costs could be lower than estimated, particularly for systems that meet the alternative location option under subsection (4)(C). The commission appreciates the commenter's interest in working with the department to ensure that high quality water is provided at a reasonable cost. No changes are made in response to the comment and the federal requirement is adopted as proposed.

The commission recognizes that the phrase "on the effective date of this rule" reflects a scheduled effective date of this amendment to be Nov. 30, 2002. Subsection (1)(D) is reprinted here and the remainder of the rule is adopted as proposed.

10 CSR 60-4.050 Maximum Turbidity Contaminant Levels and Monitoring Requirements and Filter Backwash Recycling

(1) Applicability.

(D) Beginning on November 30, 2002, any water treatment plant proposed for construction or major modification must be designed to meet the filter backwash requirements in section (4) of this rule.

Title 10—DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES

Chapter 4—Contaminant Levels and Monitoring

ORDER OF RULEMAKING

By the authority vested in the Safe Drinking Water Commission under section 640.100, RSMo Supp. 2002, the commission rescinds a rule as follows:

10 CSR 60-4.060 Maximum Radionuclide Contaminant Levels and Monitoring Requirements is rescinded.

A notice of proposed rulemaking containing the proposed rescission was published in the Missouri Register on February 15, 2002 (27 MoReg 329). No changes have been made in the proposed rescission, so it is not reprinted here. This proposed rescission becomes effective thirty (30) days after publication in the Code of State Regulations.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS: A public hearing on this rescission was held May 23, 2002 and the public comment period ended June 14, 2002. At the public hearing the department testified that this rule is proposed for rescission and reoption in order to adopt changes to the U.S. EPA's radionuclide. No comments were received. The rescission is adopted as proposed.

Title 10—DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES
Division 60—Public Drinking Water Program
Chapter 4—Contaminant Levels and Monitoring

ORDER OF RULEMAKING

By the authority vested in the Safe Drinking Water Commission under section 640.100, RSMo Supp. 2002, the commission adopts a rule as follows:

10 CSR 60-4.060 Maximum Radionuclide Contaminant Levels and Monitoring Requirements is adopted.

A notice of proposed rulemaking containing the text of the proposed rule was published in the Missouri Register on February 15, 2002 (27 MoReg 329-337). No changes have been made to the text of the proposed rule, so it is not reprinted here. This proposed rule becomes effective thirty (30) days after publication in the Code of State Regulations.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS: A public hearing on this rule was held May 23, 2002 and the public comment period ended June 14, 2002. At the public hearing the department testified that the proposed rule adopts changes to U.S. EPA's radionuclide rule and is necessary in order to maintain primacy. The rule includes changes to monitoring requirements and sets a maximum contaminant level (MCL) for uranium of 30 micrograms per liter. The existing MCLs for radium-226, radium-228, and gross alpha emitters are retained and a screen of 50 pCi/L is set for beta and photon emitters at vulnerable systems. Adopting this rule will provide Missouri citizens greater protection from radionuclides in their water, particularly uranium which is not currently regulated as a drinking water contaminant. No public comments were received. The rule is adopted as proposed.

Title 13—DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL SERVICES
Division 70—Division of Medical Services
Chapter 20—Pharmacy Program

ORDER OF RULEMAKING

By the authority vested in the director of the Division of Medical Services under sections 208.153 and 208.201, RSMo 2000, the director hereby amends a rule as follows:

13 CSR 70-20.200 is amended.

A notice of proposed rulemaking containing the text of the proposed amendment was published in the Missouri Register on July 1, 2002 (27 MoReg 1110-1111). Those sections with changes are reprinted here. This proposed amendment becomes effective thirty (30) days after publication in the Code of State Regulations.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS: The Division of Medical Services received two (2) written comments on the proposed amendment.

COMMENT: Two (2) comments recommended changing the word “may” to “shall” in the final phrase of section (8).

RESPONSE EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: The state agency concurs and has made this change to the amendment. With the change, the amendment now reads accordingly.

COMMENT: The Public Cost statement in the proposed amendment was inadvertently reprinted as the Private Cost statement.

RESPONSE: The Private Cost statement is being corrected and reprinted.

13 CSR 70-20.200 Drug Prior Authorization Process

(8) When implementing the provisions of section (3), Missouri-specific data shall include the consideration of use and cost data, pharmacoeconomic information and prudent utilization of state funds, and shall include medical and clinical criteria.

PRIVATE COST: This proposed amendment will not cost private entities more than five hundred dollars ($500) in the aggregate.

Title 13—DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL SERVICES Division 70—Division of Medical Services Chapter 20—Pharmacy Program

ORDER OF RULEMAKING

By the authority vested in the director of the Division of Medical Services under sections 208.153 and 208.201, RSMo 2000, the director hereby adopts a rule as follows:

13 CSR 70-20.250 is adopted.

A notice of proposed rulemaking containing the text of the proposed rule was published in the Missouri Register on July 1, 2002 (27 MoReg 1111). Those sections with changes are reprinted here. This proposed rule becomes effective thirty (30) days after publication in the Code of State Regulations.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS: The Division of Medical Services received one (1) written comment on this proposed rule.

COMMENT: One comment was received proposing that, rather than making new drugs subject to immediate prior authorization, a new drug be permitted to be prescribed for the first thirty (30) days while the division makes its review. The comment argued that this would ensure access for medically needy patients to the most appropriate drug therapies without cumbersome processes that could take thirty (30) days or more to appeal if necessary.

RESPONSE: The proposed prior authorization of new products will not preclude medically needy patients from receiving access to the most appropriate new drug therapies, as the criteria will allow approval for medical necessity. Products will be available by prior authorization within twenty-four (24) hours of request for any approved indication. As such, no appeals will be needed. The division has considered the comment and has declined to make changes to the rule.

COMMENT: One comment stated that if the Medicaid Drug Prior Authorization Committee (MDPAC) has already approved a drug, it should not be necessary to review a newly marketed dosage form of the same product. The comment recommends deleting all reference to “new dosage forms” in the proposed rule.

RESPONSE: The proposed prior authorization of new dosage forms will not preclude patients from receiving approval for medical necessity. Prudent use of scarce state funds requires careful scrutiny of the effect of all new products, including new dosage forms, on the pharmacy program budget. Reimbursement limitations other than prior authorization are considered during the review, such as a dose optimization edit, and may be imposed on new dosage forms to achieve program savings. If the drug entity is already available in other dosage forms, medically needy patients have access to the product. The division has considered the comment and has declined to make changes to the rule.

COMMENT: One comment states that in section (2) of the proposed rule, it is not clear to whom interested parties may present clinical data within the division. Providing a single point of contact within the division would streamline the process and identify who is responsible for it.

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: The Pharmacy Program Director is the primary point of contact within the division for receipt of such information. The division concurs with this suggestion, and has made a change to section (2) of the rule accordingly.

COMMENT: One comment states that it is necessary to add a provision to ensure that the prior authorization process complies with the Missouri open meetings law.

RESPONSE: Recommendations by the division staff for continued prior authorization of products will be made in writing to the Medicaid Drug Prior Authorization Committee (MDPAC). A copy of this recommendation will be available to the public prior to the MDPAC meeting in which the continued prior authorization is to be discussed. All MDPAC meetings are open to the public and are subject to the requirements of the Missouri open meetings law. The division has considered the comment and has declined to make changes to the rule.

COMMENT: One comment suggests specific wording changes to section (3) of the rule to clarify that drugs are available without prior authorization unless they are sent to the MDPAC, and that any written recommendations to the MDPAC specify the criteria used in developing the division’s recommendation regarding a specific drug product.

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: The division agrees in part with the comment, but feels that additional language is needed in order to clarify the potential for further review of a given product. Although the division agrees to include an outline of the criteria used to develop prior authorization recommendations, a complete delineation of all criteria is considered administratively burdensome. The division has made changes to section (3) of the rule accordingly.

COMMENT: One comment requested a wording change in section (4) of the rule to ensure that all interested parties are able to comment on continued prior authorization of a new drug or new drug dosage form.

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: The division agrees in part with this suggestion, but for the sake of holding the meeting to a manageable length, has made a minor change to section (4) of the rule accordingly.

13 CSR 70-20.250 Prior Authorization of New Drug Entities or New Drug Dosage Form

(2) Prior authorization restrictions shall continue on new drug entities and new drug product dosage forms of existing drugs until reviewed by the division and the division eliminates the restriction or makes a final determination to require the restriction. The division shall consider known cost and use data, medical and clinical criteria, and prudent utilization of state funds in the review. Interested parties may present clinical data to the division's Pharmacy Program Director.

(3) The review referenced in section (2) shall occur within thirty (30) business days after the division receives notice through pricing updates of the availability of the drug entity on the market. Upon completion of the review, the division shall make the drug available for use without prior authorization at that time by all Medicaid recipients or refer the new drug or new drug dosage form to the Medicaid Drug Prior Authorization Committee (MDPAC) with a recommendation for continued prior authorization. During the subsequent review by the MDPAC and Drug Use Review (DUR) Board, the drug shall continue to be available only through prior authorization. Staff recommendations regarding continued prior authorization of a new drug or new drug dosage form shall be made in writing to the MDPAC outlining the criteria used to develop such recommendations. A copy shall be available to the public prior to the MDPAC meeting in which the continued prior authorization is to be discussed.

(4) The MDPAC shall consider any recommendations related to continued prior authorization of a new drug or new drug dosage form at the next scheduled MDPAC meeting. The division and the MDPAC may actively seek comments about the proposed restrictions. The MDPAC shall include a minimum of fifteen (15) minutes for any interested parties who have notified the division in advance of the scheduled meeting to comment about such proposed restrictions.

Title 20—DEPARTMENT OF INSURANCE
Division 500—Property and Casualty
Chapter 6—Workers' Compensation and Employer's Liability

ORDER OF RULEMAKING

By authority vested in the director of the Department of Insurance under sections 287.135 and 374.045, RSMo 2000, the director amends a rule as follows:

20 CSR 500-6.700 is amended.

A notice of proposed rulemaking containing the text of the proposed amendment was published in the Missouri Register on June 17, 2002 (27 MoReg 1032-1043). Comments were received and are responded to herein. Those sections of the proposed amendment which have been changed as a result of comments are reprinted here. This proposed amendment becomes effective thirty (30) days after publication in the Code of State Regulations.

SUMMARY OF COMMENTS: A public hearing on the proposed amendment was held on July 24, 2002, and the period for written comments ended on July 26, 2002. At the hearing, the Missouri Department of Insurance (Department) briefly outlined some of the history of the proposal and discussed several possible changes to the proposal it was considering. The following persons or entities spoke in support of the proposed amendment: the Department of Insurance, CCO, Inc. (CCO) and Martin Estep representing Matrix Preferred Provider Organization, Inc. (Matrix). The following entities spoke in opposition to the proposed amendment: Liberty Mutual Insurance Company (Liberty Mutual), Missouri Employers Mutual Insurance Company (MEM), the American Insurance Association (the AIA) and the Missouri Insurance Coalition (the MIC). In addition to oral testimony, the Department received written comments in support of the proposed amendment from CCO, Health Choice WorkComp Management (Health Choice), and the Associated General Contractors of St. Louis (the AGC of St. Louis). The Department also received written comments in opposition to the proposed amendment from the Alliance of American Insurers (the Alliance), the AIA, MEM, the MIC and the National Association of Independent Insurers (the NAI).

In its testimony at the hearing, the Department indicated that the proposed amendment was its most recent attempt to promulgate a rule in accordance with section 287.135, RSMo. The most recent previous attempt had been initially submitted to the Secretary of State's Office in October of 2001, published in the Missouri Register on November 1, 2001, given a public hearing on December 12, 2001, filed with the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules (JCAR) on February 8, 2002 and disapproved by JCAR at a public hearing on March 7, 2002. The Department provided this history because the hearing before JCAR provided the Department with clarification as to what type of rule the General Assembly sought under section 287.135, RSMo. This clarification was helpful because prior attempts at a rule had been the subject of considerable debate between representatives of the insurance industry on the one hand and several managed care organizations (MCOs) on the other.

The Department's understanding is that JCAR resolved that debate through a compromise. Under that compromise, it directed the Department to promulgate a "regular" rule and an "emergency" rule to implement section 287.135, RSMo. The rules were to be "pro-MCO" rules which recognized that employers had the right to choose their MCOs and which provided a mechanism for paying those MCOs which had not been paid since 1993 (i.e., the year when section 287.135, RSMo became effective) due to the absence of a rule. The other part of the compromise was JCAR's directive to the Department to "sunset" the rules as of December 31, 2002, so that the insurance industry would not be required to reimburse employer-selected MCOs for MCO services provided after that date. In addition, JCAR formally disapproved the version of the rule then before it. Subsequently, the Chairman of JCAR introduced Senate Concurrent Resolution (SCR) 58 which memorialized these directives to the Department. SCR 58 was passed unanimously by the Senate and House and was signed by the Governor on July 12, 2002.

In its testimony, the Department indicated that the present proposed amendment was its attempt to implement Section 287.135, RSMo and SCR 58. In consideration of the fact that the General Assembly specifically directed the Department to provide a mechanism for reimbursing MCOs that had outstanding payment disputes with insurers going back to 1993, the Department indicated that it was considering modifications to the proposed amendment to allow outstanding claims to be consolidated on a company-by-company basis.

Finally, the Department discussed a provision enacted as part of Senate Bill 895 which some had indicated they thought removed the Department's authority to require insurers to reimburse MCOs with whom they had no reimbursement contracts.

Three (3) MCOs (CCO, Matrix and Health Choice) provided oral and/or written testimony in favor of the proposed amendment, with certain caveats. CCO argued the Department should follow the proposed amendment (set to sunset on December 31, 2002) with a rule that continued on into the future after that date. In such a rule, CCO argued the Department should add a provision precluding insurers from "debiting" the premiums of employers who chose to use an MCO not under contract with the employer's insurer. Matrix cited a number of prior reimbursement problems, but indicated a desire to settle outstanding disputes with carriers to put the issue to rest. Health Choice asked that the Department clarify that the presumption in the proposed amendment (i.e., that an access fee of twenty-five percent (25%) of savings is reasonable) did not need to be proven in each and every case. In addition to these MCOs, the AGC of St. Louis indicated it supported any rule which possessed certain features, including allowing employers to use an MCO different from those MCOs affiliated with the insurer, prohibiting insurers from passing on MCO charges to employers and requiring the same discounts for both affiliated and non-affiliated MCOs unless the insurer provided objective evidence that the affiliated MCOs were more cost-effective.

Two (2) insurance companies (Liberty Mutual and MEM) and four (4) insurance industry trade groups (the AIA, the Alliance, the NAI and the MIC) provided oral and/or written testimony in opposition to the proposed amendment. These entities expressed the view that insurers should not be required to reimburse MCOs with whom they have no contracts, for a number of reasons. Their position was that in order to function at a high level of efficiency and to assure the highest quality of care and greatest savings, insurers need to be able to partner with the best MCOs. They argued that integrating the systems of MCOs and insurance companies was difficult and expensive, and that without a high degree of automation, potential savings would be lost. From their point of view, this level of integration requires a contractual relationship between insurers and MCOs. They also questioned whether the Department has the authority to promulgate the proposed amendment, citing the recently enacted provision in Senate Bill 895 and arguing that section 287.135, RSMo constituted an unlawful delegation of legislative authority to the Department of Insurance. They also raised other points of concern and suggested a number of changes to the proposed amendment. Finally, they requested at the end of the hearing that the Department include as part of the record on this version of the rule those materials associated with the three (3) previous formal proposed versions, a request which the Department agreed to.

COMMENT: CCO argued that the Department should not stop at a rule that "sunset" at the end of 2002. From CCO's perspective, the logical interpretation of section 287.135, RSMo and SCR 58 is that the General Assembly only wanted a "retrospective" rule to sunset at the end of the year. In other words, while the rule ordered under SCR 58 is designed to provide a mechanism to reimburse MCOs for unpaid bills since 1993 and should sunset at the end of the year, the rule required under section 287.135, RSMo has no set sunset date, and therefore it should function on a going-forward basis, even after 2002. Essentially, CCO saw SCR 58 and section 287.135, RSMo as calling for separate rules.

CCO also argued that the Department should amend this version of the rule to include provisions which had been included in earlier versions which prohibited insurance companies from providing differential pricing to employers depending upon whether or not the employer used an insurer-affiliated MCO or an employer-selected, non-insurer-affiliated MCO.

RESPONSE: While the Department understands CCO's argument that a permanent, going-forward rule should be written to be effective after December 31, 2002, that is simply not the Department's understanding of the General Assembly's intent. The key portion of SCR 58 reads as follows:

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the General Assembly hereby directs the Department of Insurance to promulgate an emergency rule and a proposed rule with a sunset of December 31, 2002, which would provide a mechanism to pay managed care organizations, including those whose claims have been denied since the passage of Senate Bill 251 in 1993, based on the absence of a rule as required pursuant to Section 287.135, RSMo. . .

From the Department's perspective, this provision is not limited only to MCOs that haven't been paid since 1993. The Department believes the provision's language ordering rules that ". . . provide a mechanism to pay managed care organizations, including those whose claims have been denied. . . ." means that the emergency and proposed rules are intended to cover all MCOs, "including those" that have gone unpaid. Otherwise, the words "including those" could have been eliminated and the SCR language could have been written ". . . provide a mechanism to pay managed care organizations whose claims have been denied. . . ." Because the Department must give meaning to all the words used by the General Assembly, it must presume that the "including those" language does have meaning. To give meaning to those words, the Department has concluded it must infer that the General Assembly's intent was that the Department's rules cover all MCOs. And, since SCR 58 directs these rules to sunset on December 31, 2002, the Department believes the sunset date applies to provisions relating to all MCOs, not just those that have gone unpaid. Buttressing this conclusion is the fact that, at no time during the passage of SCR 58 or at the March 7, 2002 JCAR hearing, does the Department recall any discussions directing the promulgation of a separate, going-forward regulation to be effective after 2002.

Because the Department does not see the General Assembly's directive as requiring a going-forward version of the rule to be effective after 2002, the Department declines to amend the proposal to prohibit any differential pricing by insurers linked to the particular MCO selected by an employer. While such a provision would make sense as a method of safeguarding an employer's right to select his or her MCO, since the proposal will be effective only for a short time in 2002, it isn't justified. To the extent any questions concerning differential pricing do arise, the Department can address them under its general regulatory authority over the "reasonableness" of rates.

COMMENT: Matrix discussed a number of situations wherein it felt insurers had unjustly refused to reimburse it for MCO services provided. These were services Matrix provided as an employer-selected MCO. Matrix argued that the General Assembly had confirmed (through SCR 58) that employer-selected MCOs were intended by the General Assembly to be reimbursed under rules to be promulgated pursuant to 287.135, RSMo. However, despite the many instances and many years of non-payment by insurers, Matrix said it was willing to put the issue behind it without further public debate, but only so long as insurers provided reasonable reimbursement for these previously-provided services.

In addition, Matrix introduced a number of exhibits, including a thick file of documents that represented the invoices associated with just one employee injury. Matrix suggested that insurers would be well advised to settle outstanding claims rather than approaching them on a claim-by-claim or invoice-by-invoice basis.

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: The Department agrees with Matrix that the General Assembly has clarified that one intent behind section 287.135, RSMo was to allow employers to select their MCO and to require insurers to reimburse such MCOs for their reasonable MCO fees.

The Department also agrees that a claim-by-claim or invoice-by-invoice approach to reviewing MCO bills and determining "reasonableness" will be time-consuming. Therefore, the Department has decided to modify the rule in two (2) respects. First, it has decided to presume that the preconditions set forth in section (5) of the proposed amendment have in fact been met. Based on its understanding of the outstanding disputes, it seems likely that this presumption will be true the majority of the time. In those cases where an insurer is able to show under section (6) that a particular precondition has not been met, that will be grounds for not reimbursing the fee in question. Second, the department has decided to add a provision to section (6) of the proposed amendment to allow for all of an MCO's claims against one (1) insurer or one (1) insurance company holding group to be consolidated where there are common issues between them.

COMMENT: Health Choice discussed the provisions of the proposed rule that establish a "presumption" that an MCO access fee of twenty-five percent (25%) of savings is reasonable. This is the fee that Health Choice charges and therefore, Health Choice finds it to be acceptable. However, it suggested that the Department clarify that MCOs would not have to justify the reasonableness of every access fee that was less than or equal to this cap.

RESPONSE: The Department does not intend that MCOs prove the reasonableness of access fees that are less than or equal to twenty-five percent (25%) of savings. This is the point of setting forth a "presumption," which automatically shifts the burden to the opposing side to show why the fee is not reasonable. MCOs that charge an access fee of less than or equal to twenty-five percent (25%) of savings as their normal access fee will not be required to prove the reasonableness of such fees as part of the Department's review process, although the Department will be required to consider any evidence presented by the insurer which suggests the percentage is not reasonable. If such evidence is introduced, the MCO will be allowed a response under subsection (6)(F) of the rule.

COMMENT: The AGC of St. Louis presented written comments in which it outlined its position on what features an MCO rule should contain. These included that employers should have the right to use a non-insurer-affiliated MCO of their choosing. However, the AGC of St. Louis also requested that insurers not be allowed to pass MCO charges on to employers or to include MCO fees as an allocated expense to be included in an employer's experience rating.

RESPONSE: The Department believes the General Assembly has clarified that section 287.135, RSMo intended that employers have the right to select their MCOs and have their insurers pay for the reasonable expenses of such MCOs. However, MCO savings and expenses will affect the losses incurred by insurers and will inevitably be reflected in their premium rates. And, because MCO fees can easily be allocated to a particular employer's losses, it would normally be permissible to include them in the calculation of that employer's experience modification factor, under the rules governing such calculations. Nevertheless, because a discounted medical fee and its accompanying access fee would be lower than an undiscounted medical fee, the employer's experience modification should be lower than if the MCO had not been used.

COMMENT: The AIA and the Alliance argued that it was a mistake for the proposed amendment to equate the choice of a "health care provider" with the choice of an "MCO." AIA suggested that the Department was misinterpreting statutory language in this regard.

RESPONSE: The Department recognizes that there is a difference between an individual health care provider and an MCO. The former is a person licensed by state law to provide medical care, while the latter is a "network" of individuals and other entities, many of whom are health care providers, but some of whom are not. Section 287.140, subsection 10 of Missouri's Workers' Compensation Law provides that "[t]he employer shall have the right to select the licensed treating physician, surgeon, chiropractic physician, or other health care provider. . . ." The Department understands that this subsection applies to individual health care providers and does not, by its terms, apply to MCOs.

The Department's decision to allow employer choice of MCOs under this rule is not based on section 287.140, but rather on section 287.135, RSMo, subsection 1 of which directs the Department to ". . . establish a program whereby managed care organizations in this state shall be certified by the department for the provision of managed care services to employers who voluntarily choose to use such organizations." The Department interprets the phrase ". . . voluntarily choose to use such organizations . . ." to mean that employers have the right to select their MCO.

Of course, the issue is not only whether the employer has the right to select an MCO (which some insurers, such as Liberty Mutual, have conceded they have the right to do), but rather, whether, under section 287.135, RSMo, the employer can select an MCO that is not under contract with the employer's insurance company and, as a result of that selection, obligate the insurance company to pay for certain administrative and other costs of the MCO. During the years of discussion on this issue, the central debate has been between those who interpreted section 287.135, RSMo as authorizing both employer choice of an MCO and insurance carrier reimbursement of that MCO, and those who do not.

To the extent section 287.135, RSMo was unclear on this point, the issue was clarified this year by the General Assembly's Joint Committee on Administrative Rules during the March 7, 2002 hearing on a prior version of this rule. At the hearing, JCAR made it clear that employers had the right to select their MCO. JCAR disapproved the Department's prior version of the rule and requested that the Department file a new, "pro-MCO" version. The Department interpreted this to mean that an insurer would be obligated to pay the reasonable administrative fees of an employer-selected MCO. This view is reinforced by the General Assembly's unanimous passage and subsequent signature by the Governor of Senate Concurrent Resolution 58. SCR 58 noted that MCOs had been denied payment for their services by insurers due to the absence of a Department rule on the matter and it directed the Department to "... promulgate an emergency rule and a proposed rule . . . which would provide a mechanism to pay managed care organizations, including those whose claims have been denied since the passage of Senate Bill 251 in 1993, based on the absence of a rule as required pursuant to Section 287.135, RSMo . . . ."

The Department is unaware of any outstanding payment issues between insurance companies and MCOs with whom the insurers have a contract. The only outstanding payment issues of which the Department is aware are those between employer-selected MCOs and insurance companies with whom these MCOs do not have contracts. It is for these instances that subsection 3 of Section 287.135 directed the Department to promulgate a rule on reimbursement. Later, the same subsection indicates that, where a contract for reimbursement does exist between the insurer and the MCO, the contract's reimbursement provisions prevail. The obvious conclusion is that, under section 287.135, RSMo, where there is no such contract, the rule's reimbursement provisions are intended to prevail.

COMMENT: The MIC argued that the "criteria" for reimbursement under section 287.135, RSMo should require the existence of a contract between the employer-selected MCO and the employer's insurer, as a precondition to requiring the insurer to reimburse the MCO.

RESPONSE: For the reasons cited in the response set forth immediately above, the Department disagrees. The General Assembly clearly distinguished between situations where the MCO and the insurer have a reimbursement contract and situations where they do not. The terms of the reimbursement contract prevail where the contract exists, while the rule will prevail where there is no contract. If the General Assembly intended that there always be a contract, the terms of which would always prevail, then the General Assembly would not have needed to allow the provisions of an insurer/MCO contract to prevail "notwithstanding any other provisions of this subsection to the contrary . . ." Yet this is in fact the language used in the last sentence of subsection 3 of section 287.135, RSMo. Because the rules of statutory construction require the "notwithstanding" language to have some meaning, the logical conclusion is that subsection 3 of section 287.135's earlier directive to the Department to "... promulgate rules which set out the criteria under which the fees charged by a managed care organization shall be reimbursed by an employer's workers' compensation insurer . . ." is meant to apply to situations where no insurer/MCO contracts exist, and that the "notwithstanding" language applies where such contracts do exist.

COMMENT: The Alliance and MEM indicated that the Department was violating the intent of the General Assembly regarding section 287.135, RSMo. They argued that the intent was to encourage employers to use MCOs in order to increase the quality of medical care provided to injured employees and to reduce the cost of that care. The Alliance argued that this would be accomplished best by encouraging insurers to enlarge the MCO networks they have under contract, thereby providing more complete access to specialists, etc. in all parts of the state. MEM argued that the General Assembly would not have intended a result that would lower the quality of care provided to an injured employee or increase costs. The NAII agreed, and argued that the proposed rule would result in extra costs to the system, which would be contrary to the goal of having an efficient workers' compensation system. The Alliance and MEM cited the additional costs of integrating employer-selected MCOs with an insurer's systems as one such additional cost. Liberty Mutual argued that significant savings are impossible to achieve without thorough computerization of systems. MEM argued that, at the beginning of the 21st Century, we should be working toward more automation of systems, not less.

RESPONSE: While the Department agrees that improving the quality of medical care received by injured employees and saving on the cost of medical care are important goals, they are not necessarily the only goals the General Assembly might have been advancing with the passage of section 287.135, RSMo. Employer choice of MCOs was apparently another goal. According to the testimony of MEM, which tried to integrate the services of a number of MCOs, doing so was difficult due to the different cost management philosophies and procedures of the different MCOs. To a certain extent, the Department believes these difficulties may simply be examples of lessons we have learned since the idea of using "MCOs" as a method of managing workers' compensation costs was first considered by state officials in the early 1990s. However, the Department is unaware of any definitive studies which make clear that one approach to managing workers' compensation costs is clearly the best or "preferred" approach. To the degree MCOs were operating in good faith to control costs based on reasonable methodologies, the Department believes the General Assembly intended these MCOs be reimbursed by insurers. But, because the SCR 58 did not direct the Department's rules to extend beyond the end of 2002, presumably insurers will be in a position to apply the lessons learned in previous years into the future. Thus, those carriers that choose to increase the level of systems integration between their automated systems and those of a select group of contract-MCOs will be free to do so.

COMMENT: The MIC and MEM argued that the additional cost that would result from the proposed amendment might encourage insurance companies to leave the state and might encourage employers to self-insure.

RESPONSE: The main thrust of the proposed rule is to implement section 287.135 as directed by the General Assembly in SCR 58. As such, the primary focus will be on settling the outstanding reimbursement disputes between insurers and those employer-selected MCOs who provided managed care services but who weren't reimbursed by insurers since 1993. It's not clear how many non-reimbursement disputes will be presented to the Department, but the Department presumes they represent, in dollar terms, only a fraction of the premium generated in Missouri's insured workers' compensation market since 1993. Because the provisions of the proposed amendment will terminate on December 31, 2002, the main burden that will be imposed on the insurance industry by the proposal will be to wrap up those outstanding disputes that date back to 1993. The Department believes that it is unlikely that the burden of resolving these disputes will be enough to cause any significant flight of insurers from Missouri's marketplace or a sizable shift to self-insurance.

COMMENT: The NAII and the MIC argued that section 287.135, RSMo is an unlawful delegation of legislative authority to the Department of Insurance to, by rule, balance the financial interests of two competing parties, the insurance companies and the MCOs. They argued that deciding such matters is not the function of a regulatory agency but rather, the legislature itself, and that the legislature cannot delegate that function to an agency.

RESPONSE: The general rules of statutory construction require the Department to presume the legislature enacted a valid statute when it enacted section 287.135, RSMo. Regarding the balancing of the financial interests between insurers and MCOs, section 287.135 provides written standards under which the Department is to determine whether an MCO fee is to be reimbursed by an insurer, standards which require the fee to be reasonable in relation both to the managed care services provided and to the savings which result from those services, and which discourage the use of fee arrangements which result in unjustified costs being billed for either medical services or managed care services.

COMMENT: The Alliance and Liberty Mutual argued that the proposed amendment would effectively force insurers into business relationships with MCOs that were not of their choosing. The NAII argued this imposition of a contract on the parties would be improper.

RESPONSE: The Department notes that under section 287.140, RSMo, insurers are required to interact with and reimburse health care providers chosen by the employer. In fact, as the second sentence of subsection 10 of section 287.140, RSMo makes clear, the right to select the health care provider is the employer's right and not the insurer's. If it is permissible for Missouri statutes to allow the employer to select health care providers who are thereafter to be reimbursed for their reasonable fees by the employer's insurer, then, it is not clear to the Department why it would be improper for the statutes to allow the employer to select an MCO which would thereafter be reimbursed for its reasonable fees by the employer's insurer. In both situations, the employer would be making a choice that would thereafter obligate his or her insurer to make reimbursement to a third party not under contract with the insurer.

COMMENT: The AIA and MEM argue that allowing the insurer to select the MCO is more efficient and more effective than allowing the employer to select the MCO.

RESPONSE: To the extent there is merit in this argument, the fact that the General Assembly saw fit in SCR 58 to direct the Department to sunset any rule under section 287.135, RSMo as of December 31, 2002, means, as a practical matter, that the insurers will be able to achieve the efficiency and effectiveness they believe is possible through insurer selection of MCOs. Even though employers will still have the "right" to select an MCO, there will be no Department rule requiring insurers to reimburse such employer-selected MCOs, thereby reducing the likelihood employers will exercise that option.

In its written comments, MEM documents the difficulties it encountered in attempting to implement a system whereby employers had the option of selecting from among seven (7) different MCOs. Only twenty-five percent (25%) of their insured employers took advantage of that option. In MEM's experience, while that program resulted in savings on medical expenses, a considerable amount of administrative effort was required to achieve those results. More recently, MEM has gone to a different system, whereby employers are assigned one (1) of two (2) "partner" MCOs unless the employer opts out by selecting a third MCO or no MCO. Under this approach, ninety percent (90%) of employers are covered by managed care agreements and the medical savings have increased by forty percent (40%) over the previous system, with less administrative difficulty for MEM's claims staff.

Nothing in the proposed amendment prohibits such an approach. What the proposed amendment does require is, for the period running back to 1993, that MCOs who provided managed care services in good faith on behalf of employers but who did not get paid for those services by insurers be reimbursed by insurers at reasonable level of compensation.

COMMENT: Various entities took exception to the proposed amendment's various standards of "reasonableness" for MCO fees. The NAII complained that the proposal has several different options which would permit an MCO to charge whatever it saw fit to charge, with insurers being forced to reimburse those charges. The AIA questioned how the proposed amendment's standard for a reasonable access fee of "25% of savings off billed charges" was arrived at, it questioned the proposal's lack of a clear definition of a provider's "usual and customary" charge for a service and it recommended that the Department refer to a specified database to establish the "usual and customary charge" for a service. The Alliance agreed with this last point, and pointed out Missouri law requires the provider fees to be "fair and reasonable." Liberty Mutual argued that the maximum allowed percent of savings an MCO would be allowed to receive (i.e., twenty-five percent (25%)) would effectively become the "floor" for such charges, and it argued that the result of the proposed amendment would be a realization of, say, eighteen percent (18%) savings on medical costs, not the thirty-eight percent (38%) Liberty has been able to realize using its own procedures, based on one example.

RESPONSE: When the Department originally contemplated a rule under section 287.135, RSMo, shortly after the passage of Senate Bill 251 in 1993, one of the difficulties was defining "savings." In part, this was because new language added to subsection 3 of section 287.140, RSMo raised the possibility that workers' compensation health care providers would be limited to charging only those amounts they normally "received" for such services from insurers. Previously, the common MCO reimbursement practice had been to request to be paid a percentage of the savings realized by discounting the provider's fee off the provider's normal "billed charges." In the modern "managed care" era, since providers seldom "receive" their billed charges from insurers, it appeared that using billed charges as a foundation for determining "savings" might no longer be appropriate after the changes made to section 287.140, RSMo in SB 251.

However, in the intervening years, the decisions construing section 278.140.3 by the Administrative Law Judges of the Missouri Division of Workers' Compensation and the Missouri courts have interpreted this subsection to allow a provider to receive his normal billed charges unless an insurer can show through competent evidence that the normal billed charge is not reasonable. To date, no insurer has met this burden of proof in any reported case. Thus, Missouri case law has determined that the starting point for establishing a "fair and reasonable" "usual and customary" provider charge is the provider's normal billed charges. See Esquivel v. Day's Inn of Branson, 959 S.W.2d. 486 (Mo.App. So. District 1998).

The insurance industry apparently interprets the terms "usual and customary" as used in subsection 3 of section 287.140 to have the same meaning as those terms often have in common insurance parlance, that is to say, the "average" fee charged by physicians in the same geographic area for the same medical service or procedure. Many insurers (including auto insurers paying medical claims, health insurers, health maintenance organizations, etc.) contribute cost data to private databases which then calculate various averages and percentiles for the costs of various procedures. Workers' compensation insurers would prefer "savings" be defined as savings off some average or percentile indicated in such a database, not the savings off the provider's normal billed charges. However, as indicated above, Missouri's ALJs and courts have determined a provider is allowed to recoup his normal billed charges; a provider is not restricted to some third-party database's indication of what is usual and customary in the provider's geographic region.

The Department selected the "25% of savings" level as a "reasonable" MCO access fee after discussions with a coalition of MCOs. Some of these MCOs receive more and some receive less from those self-insured employers and insurance companies from whom they currently receive reimbursement. Other reimbursement mechanisms exist, but are often more complicated. The MCOs with whom the Department has discussed the matter indicate that the "25% of savings" level is currently the "standard" MCO rate in the Missouri marketplace. Insurers have produced no evidence that another standard exists.

In theory, MCOs could be paid more than twenty-five percent (25%) of savings but still save the workers' compensation system money. The starting point for determining whether a medical charge is "reasonable" is the provider's normal billed charge. As Missouri case law has determined, a provider is entitled to this amount unless the insurer is formally willing to go forward with evidence that the amount is unreasonable or unfair. If an MCO negotiates with a provider to accept less than the normal billed charge, the workers' compensation system is saved costs it would otherwise lawfully be required to incur. This is true so long as the MCO retains anything less than the entire amount of the savings for its own reimbursement. In theory, the MCO could ask to retain, say, seventy-five percent (75%) of the savings, and still save the system money; the benefit of the "25%" level is that it allows the insurer and the employer to benefit from the majority of the savings.

While it is true that some insurers may be able to negotiate deeper discounts than employer-selected MCOs, it is not clear that this automatically means the twenty-five percent (25%) level is somehow too high, all things considered. After all, insurers with larger discounts are unquestionably free to encourage their insured employers to sign up for these theoretically superior, insurer-contracted MCOs. If the insurer's MCO is in fact the best option for the employer, he will presumably adopt it. However, if the employer doesn't make that selection, presumably there are other intangibles (e.g. "quality of service") that have led the employer to select an alternative MCO. This merely illustrates the point that while discounts are a factor in the MCO environment, they are not necessarily the only factor to be considered.

The Department believes that including a provision in the rule which "presumes" that the standard MCO access fee of twenty-five percent (25%) of savings off the provider's normal billed charges is "reasonable" will be an efficient tool for resolving reimbursement disputes. Insurers that believe this level of reimbursement is unreasonable will be permitted to present evidence to that effect, and the Department will consider that evidence. It is clearly possible that a lower level of reimbursement will be justified by the evidence in any number of cases. The "25%" figure is merely the starting point.

Finally, as far as the "25%" standard becoming a de facto standard, the Department will simply reiterate that the proposed amendment has a sunset date of December 31, 2002, after which it will not govern any prospective MCO-insurer relationships.

COMMENT: The Alliance argued that some type of economic disincentive should be placed on the employer for going outside the insurer's MCO network. The Alliance argued that the Department should consider a rule whereby an employer-selected MCO would only be reimbursed by the employer's insurer in situations where the insurer-selected MCO's network did not have a provider in the same medical specialty and same geographic location available for the employer's use. The employer-selected MCO and its provider would then be reimbursed, but only at the same rates normally reimbursed by the insurer according to its own schedule of usual and customary charges.

RESPONSE: The approach suggested by the Alliance would seem to violate Missouri public policy in two respects, both already mentioned above. First, section 287.140, subsection 10 gives the employer (and, specifically, not the employer's insurer) the right to select the health care provider. Perhaps it is possible for an employer to officially waive this right and agree to use providers in the insurer's network, but presumably some form of formal written agreement to this effect would be required. Second, section 287.140, subsection 3 has been interpreted to allow a provider his normal billed charges; therefore, if an employer exercises his right to select an out-of-network provider, under Missouri's case law, the provider's reimbursement would be based on his own normal charges, not the insurer's network charges.

COMMENT: Regarding MCO fees other than "access" fees, the AIA questioned whether MCOs have a "standard" fee charged to other payors. They also inquired whether "other payors" include only workers' compensation payors.

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGE: The Department agrees that subsection (4)(C) of the proposed amendment should be clarified. To the extent an MCO has more than one (1) charge for a non-access fee, the fee deemed "reasonable" under the rule will be the lowest of these fees. If the MCO charges workers' compensation insurers more for a service than other insurers, an MCO which seeks to be reimbursed for the additional amount will have the burden of showing that the additional cost is justified because of additional efforts, resources, or other inputs necessitated by unique features of the workers' compensation environment.

COMMENT: The Alliance and MEM discussed the integration costs faced by an insurer dealing with an employer-selected MCO not under contract with the insurer. The Alliance argued that the MCO should be required to pay these additional costs, which would likely be substantial, and it noted such costs were not included in the fiscal note. MEM detailed its efforts at trying to allow employers substantial freedom of choice in their selection of an MCO, and the difficulties involved in such an approach. In particular, MEM indicated that the proposed amendment's conclusion that an insurer would be adequately notified of an employer's contract with an MCO upon the insurer's receipt of an invoice from the MCO indicated a lack of understanding by the Department of the realities of managing an insurance operation. Liberty Mutual also commented on the proposal's lack of prior notice to the insurer of the employer/MCO relationship.

RESPONSE: In prior versions of this rule, the Department attempted to deal with the issue of the costs of integrating insurers and MCOs on a prospective basis. The Department agrees with the notion that a highly efficient system would require a considerable level of integration between the parties. However, pursuant to SCR 58, the proposed amendment will sunset at the end of calendar year 2002. As such, there is little justification for requiring insurers or MCOs to expend substantial amounts to modify their systems to adapt to a rule that will be in effect for a comparatively short period of time. To the degree individual insurers and MCOs choose to improve efficiencies in the future through heightened integration of systems, they will have the opportunity to do so on their own.

However, because SCR 58 specifically directs the Department to promulgate rules which ". . . provide a mechanism to pay managed care organizations, including those whose claims have been denied since the passage of Senate Bill 251 in 1993. . .", the Department must take notice of the level of integration between insurers and these unpaid, employer-selected MCOs since 1993. It is the Department's understanding that the normal method by which employer-selected MCOs sought reimbursement was through the use of a fee invoice, sent to the insurer. Assuming certain basic information was provided in such an invoice, this payment device seems to be a reasonable method of interface between the insurer and the MCO. While it is clear the trend is toward greater and greater degrees of computer automation in the claims handling and bill paying processes, insurers still must have the flexibility to deal with those situations, permitted under section 287.140, RSMo, subsection 10, whereby the employer selects a health care provider outside the insurer's network, and thus, outside its automated system. The traditional system of billing through the mail is the fallback mechanism for dealing with such situations and will be considered sufficient by the Department for payment of MCO bills since 1993. Since the rule sunsets at the end of 2002, and since there are no new integration requirements in the rule other than those already used to date, there are no additional integration costs, per se, that need to be reflected in the fiscal note.

COMMENT: Liberty Mutual and MEM cautioned the Department against following an approach similar to one that had failed in Florida. That state required all workers' compensation medical bills to be administered through an MCO. In 2001, within five years of the start of the program, Florida eliminated it. MEM argued that the main flaw in the Florida program was a lack of incentives. Knowing that the payment of MCOs for their services was mandated, MCOs had no incentive to hold down medical provider costs or operate more efficiently. And, knowing they were being paid to review medical bills, MCOs allowed a greater number of medical procedures to be performed, thereby assuring them more bills to review (and be paid for reviewing). The end result was a significant increase in the medical cost per claim. MEM argued that, like the Florida plan, the proposed amendment lacks incentives for employer-selected MCOs to control costs. Liberty indicated that if the proposed rule went into effect, Missouri would be the only state in the country with anything like it.

RESPONSE: The proposed amendment does not provide an unrestricted license to MCOs to bill for services. It operates on the presumption that MCOs are operating in good faith to control costs, but it allows insurers to argue against MCO reimbursement when reimbursement is unreasonable under the circumstances. And, while it may be true that Missouri will be the only state in the nation with such an MCO rule, as noted above, it will only remain in place until December 31, 2002.

COMMENT: The Alliance and Liberty Mutual argued that even if the employer is allowed to select his or her own MCO, the employer's insurance company should not be required to reimburse that MCO for the MCO's fees. The Alliance indicated that when an insurer selects its own MCO, it factors the costs associated with that MCO into the cost of the insurance coverage provided. The AIA and MEM argued that allowing the employer to select his own MCO would add significant costs to the system, and the NAII, the MIC and MEM argued these additional costs would result in higher rates. The AIA and MEM argued that the proposal would increase employer confusion, the AIA and the Alliance indicated the proposal would undermine the quality of care being provided, and the AIA said that injured employees would be the ultimate victims of the approach taken in the proposal.

RESPONSE: Based both on the comments made by the members of the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules at the March 7, 2002 hearing concerning the prior version of this proposal, and on the provisions of SCR 58, the Department has concluded the General Assembly has indicated that one intent behind section 287.135, RSMo was indeed to allow the employer to select the MCO and thereafter have the employer's insurer pay the MCO's reasonable fees. While requiring insurers to pay the fees of employer-selected MCOs will entail some cost, the cost will be limited. The proposed amendment will primarily address only those situations where MCO services were provided since 1993 but were not reimbursed. It is the Department's understanding that most MCOs stopped providing such services to certain carriers once it became clear that payment would not be forthcoming from these carriers. As such, the number of cases where the proposed amendment will require reimbursement will be a fraction of what it would have been had the same rule provisions been promulgated in 1993. As to the issue of "confusion," the Department notes that insurers have testified that part of the problem has been their own failure to communicate the existence of their own high-quality managed care programs to their own insured employers. As to undermining the quality of care, the Department has heard of no cases in the last ten (10) years in which the use of employer-selected MCOs has harmed an injured employee.

COMMENT: The Alliance and Liberty Mutual suggested that a number of additional features be added to the proposed amendment. The Alliance said employers should be notified of the costs and expected savings of using an outside MCO, and it suggested that insurers be permitted to require financial protections such as bonds or letters of credit to assure funds paid to the MCOs are in fact transferred from the MCOs to medical providers. Liberty suggested MCO contracts be limited to a period of twelve (12) months and that employers have a forty-five (45)-day cooling off period during which they could back out of a contract with an MCO.

RESPONSE: The Department declines to make the suggested changes. Since the rule will sunset at the end of 2002 and is principally directed at providing compensation for MCO services already provided under MCO/employer contracts already entered into, requiring new pre-contract information on costs and savings would be of minimal value. Likewise, requirements for twelve (12)-month MCO contracts and a cooling off period are largely moot given the rule's short period of prospective operation. Additional financial protections seem unnecessary, as the Department is unaware of any instances of non-payment by an MCO of a provider, primarily because MCOs request that insurers pay the provider and the MCO separately and directly, meaning that the MCO is, to the Department's understanding, typically not holding funds from the insurer for a provider.

COMMENT: The Department received several comments regarding the proposed amendment's methodology for dealing with payment disputes between an insurer and an MCO. The AIA argued that the Department of Insurance was not the proper venue for such disputes, since section 287.135, RSMo specifically directs such disputes to be handled by the Division of Workers' Compensation of the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations. MEM argued that the proposed methodology was one-sided, in that it basically only required the MCO to submit a bill to an insurer, and the AIA alleged that the dispute process would be cumbersome and would make it too costly for insurers to dispute unreasonable MCO fees.

RESPONSE AND EXPLANATION OF CHANGES: The AIA's argument that subsection 5 of section 287.135 places the venue for MCO/insurer fees disputes is incorrect. That provision only addresses issues of the "necessity and appropriateness of medical care services" not the reasonableness of any MCO fees associated with such services. The Division of Workers' Compensation has declined to hear MCO fee disputes under this section in the past, citing its lack of statutory authority to do so. The Department agrees that the approach to disputes contained in the proposal could be cumbersome if it required an analysis of MCO bills on an invoice-by-invoice basis. As a result, the Department has added language to section (6) of the rule that would allow the Department to consolidate its review of all the bills allegedly owed by one (1) insurer or insurance company holding group and one (1) MCO. During such a consolidated process, insurers would be permitted to make general arguments on the reasonableness of the MCO fees in question, without being required to do so repeatedly, on an invoice-by-invoice basis. They could also still object to individual invoices as the circumstances justified. The Department also considered adding language allowing it to dismiss a claim or claims between one (1) MCO and one (1) insurer or group of insurers where a private settlement has been reached between the parties, but decided this was effectively covered already under the provisions of subsection (5)(D).

COMMENT: Liberty Mutual suggested that the Department should be balanced in any review of MCO issues and thereby investigate any complaints that have been lodged against MCOs by employers. Believing the suggestion to have been directed at Matrix, Matrix invited the Department to conduct such a review.

RESPONSE: Were this rule intended to apply into the distant future, the Department would agree that it should include provisions to review instances of questionable MCO practices. However, the rule will sunset at the end of 2002. In addition, the directive of the General Assembly in SCR 58 is to promulgate a mechanism which gets MCOs paid, not investigate them for allegedly improper behavior.

COMMENT: The AIA and the MIC questioned the Department's apparent reliance on SCR 58 as support for the proposed amendment. The MIC indicated that a "resolution" merely expresses an opinion of the General Assembly or addresses some internal management issue of that body, and is not the same as a statutory enactment. The MIC assumed the Department agreed since it had not promulgated an emergency rule on the MCO issue, as called for in SCR 58. The AIA argued that the SCR raised fundamental issues regarding the separation of powers between the three branches of state government and that the Department should avoid setting a dangerous precedent.

RESPONSE: As the Department understands the case law on this issue, the General Assembly has done everything necessary in SCR 58 to enact a measure with the force and effect of law. The Missouri Supreme Court has noted that, in disapproving a state agency rule, the General Assembly is acting in a "legislative" capacity, and that in doing so, it must follow the Constitutional requirements for the passage of legislation. For example, the measure must have a title which is read on three separate days in both houses of the General Assembly, the measure must be voted on by both houses and later presented to and signed by the Governor. Since all of these steps were taken with regard to SCR 58, the Department believes it is justified in relying on that enactment as a source of guidance on the MCO issue. In particular, the General Assembly has clarified what had heretofore been a question mark regarding whether the General Assembly intended to require the reimbursement by insurers of employer-selected MCOs. Regarding an emergency rule, the Department in fact intends to submit such a rule to the Secretary of State after it completes work on this proposed amendment, allowing the emergency rule to go into effect in September.

COMMENT: The AIA, the Alliance, the NAI and the MIC all commented on language enacted as part of Senate Bill 895 during the General Assembly's 2002 regular session. The language in question reads as follows:

"Notwithstanding any other provisions of law to the contrary, no rule promulgated by the department setting forth criteria for payment of fees by or integration of systems of an insurer and an entity administering claims involving injured employees shall apply to such parties, unless a contractual relationship between such parties to administer claims on behalf of one or more employers is established and the provision of the rule are not contrary to the specific terms in the contract."

The MIC observed that the above language apparently indicated the General Assembly realized the inappropriateness of imposing "contracts of adhesion" on the parties by rule, or that the Assembly realized the adverse impact of such a requirement and thus limited the scope of any forthcoming rule. The NAI said the new language clarified the need for a contractual relationship between an insurer and an MCO prior to payment. The Alliance said the new language meant that if there were no contract between an insurer and an MCO, a rule mandating payment to the MCO would not apply, and that if there were a contract, the provisions of the contract would control. The Alliance declared that such was "the American Way."

RESPONSE: The Department was aware of the provision in question when it first appeared at the end of the session as part of Senate Bill 895. It is not clear to the Department what in fact the General Assembly intended with the provision, since it was never debated in public either in committee or on the floor of either house of the General Assembly. While the Department understands that the insurance industry may have intended that the language apply to the MCO issue, that intent is far from clear, primarily because the provision fails to ever use the terms "MCO" or "managed care organization," or reference section 287.135 specifically or the Workers' Compensation Law in general. Indeed, the provision was added to a section on English-language insurance policies. In addition, the use of the term "administering claims" is problematic, since MCOs do not really "administer claims." Rather, they negotiate medical fee discounts and coordinate medical care. By law, the "administration of claims" is a function of insurance companies or third-party administrators, not MCOs. The administration of claims involves a number of functions not performed by MCOs, such as formally receiving a claim, determining whether a claim is "compensable," paying some or all of the claim to the extent it is compensable, setting up a payment schedule, estimating the "reserves" that must be set aside to cover the claim, maintaining a formal "claim" file, and so forth.

However, the Department cannot rule out the possibility that the courts will conclude that the General Assembly intended that this new language apply to the issue of workers' compensation managed care organizations. If so, the rules of statutory construction will require that the language be harmonized with other legislative enactments on the same subject, including section 287.135, RSMo and SCR 58. The Department believes this can be done by recognizing that, because there is no clearly stated intent to the contrary, the SB 895 language should be applied prospectively, on its effective date of August 28, 2002. For the reimbursement of MCO services provided after that date, a contract between the insurer and the MCO would therefore be required. On the other hand, for MCO services provided before that date, no contract between the MCO and the insurer will be required. This interpretation would give force to the provision in SCR 58 directing the Department to provide, via a rule, a mechanism to pay MCOs that have not been paid since 1993. As indicated above, these unpaid MCOs are MCOs that have no contracts with insurers from whom they are seeking reimbursement. That such MCOs are to be paid by insurers was the intent of the General Assembly when it passed section 287.135, an intent which the General Assembly has clarified this year through its Joint Committee on Administrative Rules and SCR 58.

Under this interpretation, SB 895 would preclude the Department from requiring insurers to reimburse MCOs for MCO services provided during the period between the effective date of the new language (i.e., August 28, 2002) and the sunset date of the rule (i.e., December 31, 2002.) Therefore, the only claims remaining to be addressed by the rule would be MCO payment disputes that have arisen during the period between August 28, 1993 (the effective date of section 287.135, RSMo) and August 28, 2002.

20 CSR 500-6.700 Workers' Compensation Managed Care Organizations

(4) Criteria for Determining the Reasonableness of MCO Fees.

(C) Where the type of MCO fee is not an access fee, there shall be a rebuttable presumption that the fee is reasonable under subsection (4)(A) above if it is the standard fee charged by the MCO to other payors, when those other payors include insurers with which the MCO has formal reimbursement agreements. Where the MCO charges different payors different amounts for the fee in question under its formal reimbursement agreements with said payors, there shall be a rebuttable presumption that the lowest of these fees is reasonable under subsection (4)(A) above.

(5) Preconditions for an Insurer's Reimbursement of an MCO's Fees.

(A) An MCO fee must meet the following preconditions, which shall be presumed to be true unless proven otherwise by the insurer:

1. Relate to an injury or illness that is compensable under Chapter 287, RSMo;
2. Relate to a medically necessary procedure or a determination of medical necessity;
3. Relate to a medical claim that has previously been reported to the insurer by the employer;
4. Relate to an employer who has a contract with the insurer for workers' compensation insurance that covers the injury or illness;
5. Be from an MCO which, on the date of the bill charge, was certified by the department;

6. Be from an MCO with which the employer has a written contract to provide MCO services;

7. Be the MCO's standard reimbursement fee for the service in question;

8. Be by means of an administrative fee invoice as required under subsection (3)(E), submitted to the insurer in connection with the underlying health care provider bill; and

9. Be reasonable under section (4) above.

(6) Procedure for Reimbursement by Insurers of MCO Fees.

(F) An insurer may produce evidence to rebut the presumptions of sections (4) and (5) above, including evidence showing that the MCO fee in question is unreasonable in relation to either the managed care services provided or to the savings which result from those services. An MCO may produce evidence in support of said presumptions. Such evidence from either party may include information regarding:

1. The extent to which the medical case involved or required oversight and coordination by the MCO;

2. The fees normally paid by the insurer to other MCOs;

3. The fees normally charged by the MCO to other insurers, and to TPAs, self-insurers and individual employers;

4. The fees normally paid by other insurers to MCOs;

5. The fees normally charged by other MCOs to insurers, TPAs, self-insurers and individual employers;

6. What the health care provider has agreed to accept from the insurer under any agreements other than the MCO agreement in question;

7. The dollar amount of the MCO fee being sought compared to the dollar amount of the underlying usual and customary charge for the service of the health care provider;

8. What an independent database indicates is a usual and customary charge for the health care service, treatment or supplies in question;

9. What a governmental database indicates is a usual and customary charge for the service, treatment or supplies;

10. The charges allowed for the treatment, service, or supplies when the government is the payor;

11. What has been determined to be a reasonable provider fee by the Division of Workers' Compensation under section 287.140.3, RSMo and regulation 8 CSR 50-2.030 for the medical procedure upon which the MCO fee dispute is based, where such a determination has been made;

12. What the department has determined to be a reasonable fee in prior disputes of a similar nature; or

13. Any other information considered relevant by the department.

(G) In order to expedite its review of disputes under this rule, the department may, in its discretion or at the request of either an insurer or an MCO, consolidate separate disputes between a particular MCO and a particular insurer or insurance company holding group into a single dispute where the separate disputes concern common issues or elements.

(H) After both sides have been afforded the opportunity to present their evidence and comment on the evidence presented by the other party, the department shall review said evidence. After its review, the department shall provide the parties with a written advisory opinion of its conclusions as to the reasonableness of the fees under section 287.135, RSMo. The department's advisory opinion on its conclusions as to the reasonableness of the MCO fee shall be subject to de novo review by a court of competent jurisdiction pursuant to section 536.150, RSMo.

Title 3—DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION
Division 10—Conservation Commission
Chapter 8—Wildlife Code: Trapping: Seasons, Methods

IN ADDITION

In the September 30, 1998 update to the Code of State Regulations 3 CSR 10 Chapter 8 was republished to update a separate amendment. Due to a publication error, an earlier version of 3 CSR 10-8.510 appeared without the amendment that became effective March 1, 1998. The amendment published in the Missouri Register on June 17, 2002 (27 MoReg 981) is corrected and reprinted here as it will appear in the October 31, 2002 update to the Code of State Regulations.

3 CSR 10-8.510 Use of Traps

Traps shall be metal traps with smooth or rubber jaws only, Egg-type traps, cage-type traps or snares set under water only, but shall not include pitfalls, deadfalls, snares set in a dry land set, nets and colony traps. Traps and snares shall be plainly labeled, on durable material, with the user's full name and address [and shall be attended daily]. Wildlife shall be removed or released from all traps daily, except for killer (Conibear-type) traps set under water, and they shall be attended and wildlife removed at least once every forty-eight (48) hours. Traps may not be set in paths made or used by persons or domestic animals and Conibear-type traps may not be set along public roadways, except under water in permanent waters. Except as provided in 3 CSR 10-4.130, only cage-type traps may not be set within one hundred fifty feet (150') of any residence or occupied building located within the established boundaries of cities or towns containing ten thousand (10,000) or more inhabitants. No killer or Conibear-type trap with a jaw spread greater than five inches (5") shall be used in any dry land set but these traps may be set under water and traps with a jaw spread not greater than eight inches (8") may be set six feet (6') or more above ground level in buildings. Snares must have a loop fifteen inches (15") or less in diameter when set and must have a stop device that prevents the snare from closing to less than two and one-half inches (2 1/2") in diameter. Snares must be constructed of cable that is at least five sixty-fourth inch (5/64") and no greater than one-eighth inch (1/8") in diameter, and must be equipped with a mechanical lock and anchor swivel. Homes, dens or nests of furbearers shall not be molested or destroyed.

Title 10—DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES
Division 25—Hazardous Waste Management Commission
Chapter 12—Hazardous Waste Fees and Taxes

IN ADDITION

The proposed amendment which was published in the Missouri Register on May 1, 2002 (27 MoReg 702-706) contained two (2) typographical errors. In subsection (1)(D) the phrase "by up to 2.55%" was omitted from the end of the last sentence. Additionally, in subparagraph (1)(E)3.A., the ending phrase, "unless they are also a facility utilizing blended hazardous waste fuel" should have been in bold text as it was new material. For clarification subsection (1)(D) and subparagraph (1)(E)3.A. are reprinted here as they will appear in the October 31, 2002 update to the Code of State Regulations.

10 CSR 25-12.010 Fees and Taxes

(1) Hazardous Waste Fees and Taxes Applicable to Generators of Hazardous Waste.

(D) An individual generator required to register in accordance with 10 CSR 25-5.262 shall pay a tax based on the volume by weight and management method in accordance with subsection (1)(E) of this rule and as required by section 260.479, RSMo. Sixty percent (60%) of revenues collected from this tax shall be transmitted by the department to the Missouri Department of Revenue for deposit in the hazardous waste remedial fund and forty percent (40%) of revenues collected from this tax shall be deposited in the hazardous waste fund. The tax will be based on the volume of hazardous waste generated and the management method utilized beginning on July 1 of the year preceding the billing year and through June 30 of the billing year. A company shall not annually pay more than [eighty] eighty-two thousand forty dollars [($80,000)] ($82,040) collectively for all combined plant sites under the provisions of this subsection unless the company also has a facility utilizing blended hazardous waste fuel, nor shall a generator who is required to register in accordance with 10 CSR 25-5.262 pay less than [fifty] fifty-one dollars twenty-eight cents [($50)] ($51.28) annually. However, as outlined in subdivision 260.479.2(2), RSMo these minimum and maximum amounts may be adjusted annually by the commission by up to 2.55%.

(E) A generator who is not otherwise exempted by paragraph (1)(D)1., 2. or 3. of this rule shall pay a tax in each of the applicable subdivisions.

3. TOTAL TAX.

A. The total tax for a generator is the applicable tax in subdivision A plus the applicable tax in subdivision B. No company shall pay annually more than [eighty] eighty-two thousand forty dollars [($80,000)] ($82,040) or less than [fifty] fifty-one dollars and twenty-eight cents [($50)] ($51.28) under subsection (1)(E) unless they are also a facility utilizing blended hazardous waste fuel.

Rule Changes Since Update to Code of State Regulations

This cumulative table gives you the latest status of rules. It contains citations of rulemakings adopted or proposed after deadline for the monthly Update Service to the Code of State Regulations, citations are to volume and page number in the Missouri Register, except for material in this issue. The first number in the table cite refers to the volume number or the publication year—25 (2000), 26 (2001) and 27 (2002). MoReg refers to Missouri Register and the numbers refer to a specific Register page, R indicates a rescission, W indicates a withdrawal, S indicates a statement of actual cost, T indicates an order terminating a rule, N.A. indicates not applicable, RUC indicates a rule under consideration, and F indicates future effective date.
